A short description of the company /
person

Hi, I'm Elif !

I design and develop websites to help you virtually deliver not only your products and services, but also the experience you offer, your importance & values.

Responsiveness

Since today, almost every screen has a different screen ratio and screen resolution, websites should be able to adapt to all of them. Don't you just find it frustrating when you have to scroll between left and right to read a webpage on your phone? I do, which is why I pay special attention to responsiveness.

I want to make sure that most people can benefit from your website. (I don't like idea the of someone struggling to read text because of color deficiency.)

Sharing is caring & feedback is a gift

If you're a web designer and / or developer, or simply want to share your opinion on my work, please feel free to do so via the feedback form.

Accessibility

Not everybody browses the web the same way: Some people read, click, zoom in and out, watch, some people need a text to speech reader and a keyboard to navigate through and interact with a website, and some people disable animations. I want to make sure that most people can benefit from your website. (I don't like idea the of someone struggling to read text because of color deficiency.)

Your Identity

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. Euismod volutpat eu quisque mattis arcu luctus bibendum pulvinar scelerisque. Semper non, nam viverra consectetur aliquet tortor adipiscing. Nibh sit ut orci tristique eleifend. Id vestibulum egestas pretium quis aenean.

My design considerations

Your Identity

Why your website matters to me? Why would you prefer a unique approach?

Your website matters to me because you matter to your audience. Also, don't forget that it's probably your first virtual impression on them. A unique design and development process allows you to have an impact and a more memorable presence on the web.

Accessibility / Colors

I always test for color blindness, so that more people can benefit from your website without any issues.

Accessibility / Audio Aid

Yes, I really listen to the website via a Text to Speech Voice Reader
